

Culturally Relevant Resources for Implementing Indian Education for All

The Montana Office of Public Instruction continues to develop culturally relevant curriculum for ALL Montana schools to support instruction in the content areas with model lesson plans and resources about American Indians. Mike will share examples of IEFA resources and show how they can be used to support standards based instruction to meet the needs of various learners in different grade levels and in multiple content areas. IEFA curriculum can be accessed in your school library or via the OPI Indian Education website.
